FORCE STRIKE BAR FORMATION STRATEGY

Bullish and Bearish Force Strike (FS) Strategy

FS is a price action fractal that demonstrate bear or bull trap by itself. Occurrence of this price action structure at the common simple moving averages indicates a shake out of short-term/swing traders by MM. Usage of this price action structure at key levels (LP) gives us clues on whether SL is being triggered and false breaks that results in bear or bull traps created by the MM.

Traders can take on standalone price action trades on bullish FS when there is uptrend retracement test of the _____20/50sma_____ .

Traders can take on standalone price action trades on bearish FS when there is downtrend retracement test of the _____20/50sma_____ .

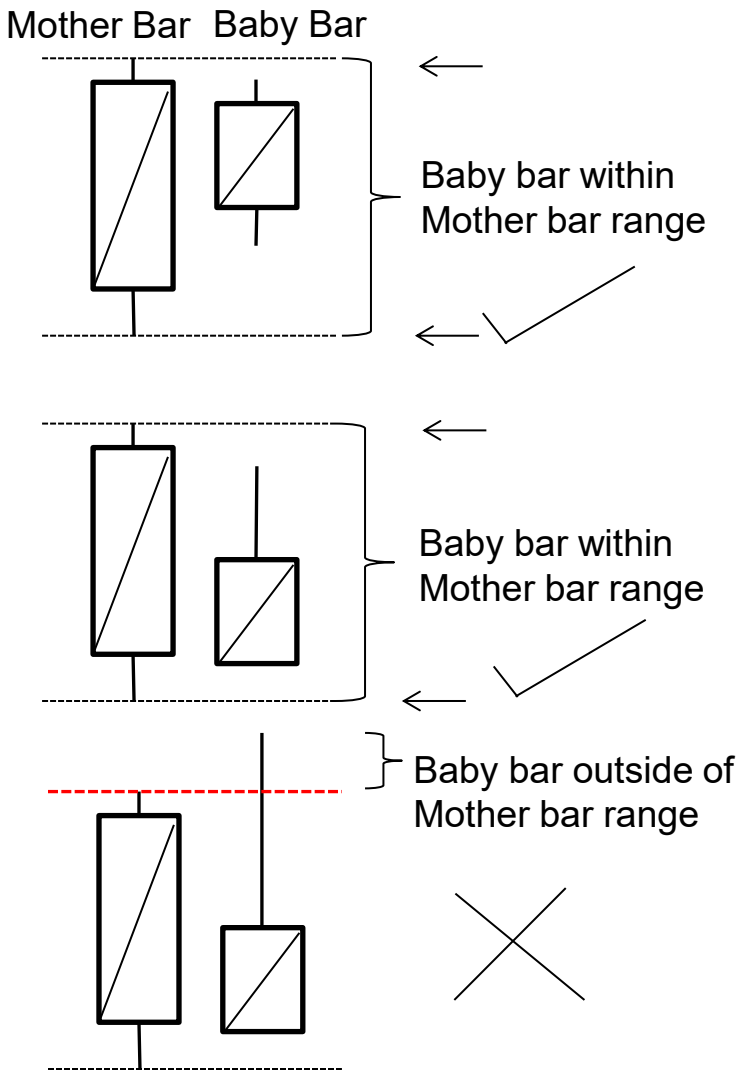

Traders can take on standalone price action trades on bullish FS when there is force ____bottom_____ scenario.

Traders can take on standalone price action trades on bearish FS when there is force _____top____ scenario.

Do refer to Entries and Exits chapter for detailed trade execution technique.
